(Original and 3 carbons)

The big event in Skagway during the month of January was the wind, and the weather. Even the old timers could hardly remember a worse month for weather. No one took the trouble to average the wind for the month officially, but the average daily wind must have been in excess of forty miles per hour. A sixty mile an hour wind got to be common, but then one day it got up to 72 miles per hour then two days later it was worse. The best I can remember, we had a total of four planes for the month. Bill Dewar, a local Trustee, told about a winter that was worse back in '32. There was a coal stove in the Dewar living room which had a copper coil inside the stove for the purpose of heating water. After two days of being a constant cherry red, one night the water pipe finally burst from the steam pressure. The steam squirted straight up to the ceiling and condensed on the ceiling, but the room itself was so cold that as the steam condensed an icicle formed on the ceiling right over the stove. By morning the icicle was over two feet long. I told Bill that the tall tales from Texas couldn't begin to compare to the wooly Alaskan products, but he swears the icicle story is true. The night the wind blew over eighty miles an hour, Barbara was a little nervous as we went to bed, and she thought that I had "gone off my rocker" as I started chuckling after a particularly big gust. I told her to relax, that I was just thinking about how the old Texas farmers would be heading for the storm cellars if the wind ever got that high. The weather was really fierce, and tempers around town began to fray before we had a let up the last week of the month. Church activities were definitely hampered, but we went on with the program for the month.

We did not have a quorum for the Corporation section of the annual meeting for the month but we went ahead with the congregational meeting electing new officers and accepting the report of the Session, The Church School, and the Women's Association. The corporation meeting was postponed 'til after the morning service on January 25, when there was a quorum present. The new slate of officers is included in the annual reports, and it is a representative and active group, in addition to being a congenial bunch. We are gradually getting away from some of the duplication of names on the Trustees and Session rosters too.

The high point of the month came early in the Youth Canvass on January 4. Five teachers and seven youngsters participated in the Canvass. Sixty contacts were made and of this number only three refused to pledge. The youngsters did most of the talking and came back a good deal more enthusiastic than they had gone out. All of them want to go again this Fall. The results were certainly spectacular, and a large stride was made in the stewardship program of the church school.

Another encouraging feature of the month's program was the Youth Sunday service on Jan. 25. The young people conducted the entire service with exception of the sermon and did beautifully.

(Original and 3 carbons)

Report highlights of work accomplished, indicating progress in program for the year; relate successes, gratifying experiences, special problems or needs; and summarize special meetings and activities. If space is insufficient, use plain paper to complete report.

The month of February seemed shorter than usual this year. The early part of the month was spent in finishing up the various annual reports, and settling the new officers into their jobs on the Board of Trustees, the Session, and the Women's Association. The new officers are still unsettled but at least they have an idea of the duties of the various offices. One highlight of this turnover of officers is that Skagway has a real clerk of the session for the first time in the history of the church. Heretofore the clerk has signed the papers as they were presented, but has not taken an active part in keeping baptismal, marriage, and membership records.

Work on the basement is progressing at a steady rate, and the pastor, in doing the wiring has had to step high to keep in front of the carpenters with wall board. The concrete slab for the rest rooms will be poured this weekend and the plumbing fixtures will be on the American Boat next Friday, and should be installed by the following weekend. When this is done, we will still have cabinets, closets, ceiling and floor tile, and painting yet to do, but the basement will be serviceable for Presbytery with two weeks left to make it look pretty.

The response to the request for aid for Presbytery have been interesting and encouraging. Every organization in town which was asked to help in a specific way has come through in beautiful style. Only one organization (American Legion Auxiliary) has not replied to the request, and the only reason for this is that they have not been able to get a quorum together to have a meeting. One offer of help was rather amusing. The Pius X Mission Auxiliary was expecting to be asked for help, and was dreading it all the while. There are only 13 active members in the Auxiliary, and their treasury was drained a number of years ago when John Dodge's daughter had to be flown out for brain surgery. The treasury never recovered and is still largely empty with no source of income available. This organization was not asked, since the meeting of Presbytery is, of course, a purely Protestant convention and the Mission Auxiliary is 100% Roman Catholic. The ladies felt so ashamed of themselves for their niggardly dread when they were not asked to help, that they have gotten together and volunteered to bake cakes for the various meals.

The response is encouraging, but there is still a great deal of work to be done. We are frankly concerned about housing. Skagway is very short on non-commercial housing (commercial too for that matter). Nearly everyone who has a spare room has already volunteered without being asked and our accommodations are up to about thirty. We can house the remainder of the delegates in commercial housing accommodations but this will run at least ten dollars per delegate for the length of the meeting. This could easily run to $700 which the church doesn't have. We are wondering how we will pay for the food order.

NARRATIVE SECTION OF REPORT

(Original and 3 carbons)

This is most important: It gives you a record of your work for your own review and evaluation; it tells us of your special problems or needs, your successes and gratifying experiences, your special meetings and activities; and it supplies the publicity department with news items for the Church.

Ordinarily the preparations for Easter and the Easter services are one of the high points of the church year, but this year in Skagway the Easter preparations were overshadowed by the work of preparing for the meeting of Presbytery. Having both events within three weeks was in many ways a staggering load for the faithful few in the Skagway church. On the other hand there is such a renewing surge of growth and power, that we are riding on the crest of a new wave of activity not only in the church but throughout the town.

Early in the month we had the observance of One Great Hour of Sharing. This year preparations were a little more adequate and the offering was larger as a result. We did use the "church banks" and there were reports from at least two parents who told of their youngsters emptying their "piggy banks" into the church banks. The youngsters said "Mother, I have plenty and this will buy milk for children who don't have anything to eat". It was gratifying to hear the Christian concern that is growing in these youngsters through the Church School program.

Work progressed steadily in the church basement through the month of March. It is amazing to note the difference in the basement which several weeks of part time labor can produce. The co-operative spirit of the men who are doing the work is improving. The men are working well together and there is a sense of comradely craftsmanship which has prevailed so that each man is doing the thing he can do best. Elder R.B. Hubbard is still over-seeing the work and doing the work which demands precision and extra care, but he has had a great deal of help.

The choir too, put in extra hours and effort to turn out two beautiful anthems and a solo for the Easter Sunday service in addition to an anthem for the Sunrise service and the Good Friday Service. With the addition of men's voices and the gradual addition of the clear voices of the teen agers the choir has been achieving a blend which has been impossible in the past. We had originally intended to sing the Brahms Requiem with the Haines choir for Presbytery, but we received the music too late to do a creditable job. We will continue to work on the Requiem one part at the time and present it sometime later in the year.

Our Palm Sunday service was certainly spectacular this year with the choir processional and the large palm buds which some of the children persisted in waving in each others faces. Two of the boys went home from church school to get their mother for church that Sunday. She wasn't ready then, but she has been ready every Sunday since then.

If you have confidential problems, write us separately and mark "personal."

(Original and 3 carbons)

Report highlights of work accomplished, indicating progress in program for the year; relate successes, gratifying experiences, special problems or needs; and summarize special meetings and activities. If space is insufficient, use plain paper to complete report.

The big event of the month, of course, was the entertainment of Presbytery. We eagerly looked forward to the arrival of the delegates, but there was also a certain amount of nervous anticipation. This was certainly a large undertaking for the Skagway church.

Three women are largely responsible for the success of the entertainment. Mrs. Mavis Solding ran the kitchen and recruited her own help for all of the preparation of the meals. This included the ordering of the food and all of the advance preparations. Ethel Villesvik ran the dining room and secured all of her own help too. Certainly was a big job and it kept the girls humping to get the delegates served quickly and out again to do the work of the meeting. Mrs. Dorothy Dewar arranged for the housing with the help of a small committee, and the contacting of people and straightening out of reservations as delegates were shifted was a large job too. Mrs. Dorothy Sheleby was chairman of the planning committee and also delegate to Presbyterial, so her hands too were certainly full. These four women did most of the actual planning and work with the occasional help of many many others.

The men were active too in other capacities. It was after three the morning that the delegates were to arrive that the last workman left the basement to go home to bed. A crew of eight had worked until midnight getting the basement clean and ready for the Presbyterial sessions. Six men had worked until the "wee" hours the night before in the same way, getting the last of the plumbing fixtures in operating shape, and the lights installed.

So far as the writer can tell, there were only two adverse comments from the local people about the meeting and these were made before the sessions by two of the town's most regular "grippers". The people of the town really pitched in to help out in a way that is certainly uncommon here for any project and particularly uncommon in a church project. This was one of the most gratifying experiences the pastor has had since arriving in Skagway. The delegates, with few if any exceptions were perfect guests, and this too contributed to the success of the meeting so far as we were concerned. This was so much true for the church that the session meeting the evening after Presbytery adjourned voted to have a special service of praise and thanksgiving for the way God had touched the hearts of our people. It was a rather unique service. The pastor asked first for those to stand who had anything to do with the preparation of the food. Then there were the ones who helped serve the food, those who sang for the services, those who worked in the church basement, those who helped in the extensive cleaning both before and after the sessions, those who provided housing, and those who had worried and prayed about the meeting. Then, of course, everyone was standing and we had our litany of thanksgiving.

DO NOT WRITE NARRATIVE BELOW THIS LINE It was thrilling to say the least.

(Original and 3 copies)

Report highlights of work accomplished, indicating progress in program for the year; relate successes, gratifying experiences, special problems or needs; and summarize special meetings and activities. If space is insufficient, use plain paper to complete report.

The highlight of the month's work was the "Caravan From Cairo", our annual Ecumenical Mission dinner sponsored jointly by the Women's Association and the Sunday Church School. We did not go to the trouble of selling tickets in advance as we did last year for the Cherry Blossom Festival and as a result the attendance was about half what we had in 1958. All in all the dinner and program which followed were well presented and those who attended had an interesting and enjoyable evening. The combination main course consisted in Malfoof Mahshie (stuffed cabbage leaves) and Couscous (a heavy stew made with rice as the starch ingredient) the bread was Chroost (deep fried waffle type batter) and the desert was Lawz Kuhbz (Iranian Almond Cakes) and Ice Cream. The program which followed was built around the movie "Waters In The Wilderness" with a presentation of the Ecumenical Mission interpretave brochure "We Have One Future" and a presentation of a copy of the brochure to each family. We would have been able to build a lot more enthusiasm for the program if we had been able to get a national of one of the Middle Eastern Countries or a furloughed missionary from this area. We were able to have a woman who was raised in Japan for the Cherry Blossom Festival last year and this helped out considerably. Table decorations came from the Wright studios and the Presbyterian Distribution service supplied maps, interpretavex pictures, and books for the displays. We still feel that a large emphasis of this sort is the best way to do a good work in missionary education. National Missions emphases will be handled in the Church School and in the Women's Association.

Another highlight in the month's work was in the adult Communicant class. Barbara and I have been working on one of the families for nearly three years and the Rutans had worked on them prior to this. The wife was formerly a Roman Catholic and three of her four children were baptized in the Roman Catholic Church and at least one of the girls has been confirmed. The husband was baptized in the Methodist church but has never had a real part of any church. This was a rather large step, and these people have still not made their professions of faith, but now they are ready, and they have certainly been working at learning all that they can before entering the church. They were particularly concerned about the sacraments and items of worship. The husband had to go North as brakeman on one of the trains the morning they had planned to come into the church together and the wife had reservations to fly to Vancouver the next morning with the children. As Bill said, "We've waited all of these years to come into the church together; another two months wont be long". It certainly is a real thrill to see an entire family find itself in the work of God's Kingdom in such a decisive way. I believe that this new group of young adults who are showing a real interest in the church can be the sort of revival of the Spirit that Skagway has needed for a long time.

For a summer month, the month of June was very busy for the Skagway Church. The real high point of the month was the choir concert on Sunday afternoon, June 14. We had seventeen people singing in the choir that afternoon and the most flattering question was "How did you get all of that music out of that many people?". It was certainly a thrilling experience to have the choir do its very best for the first choir concert the Skagway church has ever had, and the choir sounded as though there were at least twice as many voices as were actually there. There were two groups of anthems from the great tradition of choral music (Bach, Palestrina, Bortnianski, Cain, Malotte etc.) and a group of popular religious songs and hymns consisting of two anthems, three duets, and one trio. Following the concert there was a reception for the choir and a sort of going away party for the Martini's and the Turners which was nice too.

Vacation church school was a struggle as usual to secure enough teachers and to keep them coming every day. All in all we did have a good school staffed completely by local people. The youngsters learned a great deal. The Faith and Life Curriculum materials were used to good advantage in supplementing the weekly Sunday Church School sessions on the Bible.

Another highlight in the month's activities was the arrival of the "Traveling Presbyterian Seminar" under the direction of Dr. Jackman. It was a joy to meet Presbyterians from all parts of the country and to visit with the Jackmans while they were here. The pastor and his wife made the trip up on the railroad the following day and got to know some of the folks a little better. It was also during Dr. Jackman's visit that the pulpit committee met and voted to extend a call to the Rev. Roland Rosson, formerly of Metlakatla. The congregation confirmed the call on July 12, and Mr. Rosson is already on his way. The congregation is eagerly awaiting his arrival.

The Turner's are all packed and ready to go out on furlough. We will be leaving the latter part of this week or the early part of next week depending on the final plans. We expect to visit for a few days on the west coast then drive to Denver for a few days visit with a brother there. During the latter part of August we will be visiting with the wife's family in San Antonio. We expect to be enrolled in school early in September and anticipate working toward M.A. degrees.

Report highlights of work accomplished, indicating progress in program for the year; relate successes, gratifying experiences, special problems or needs; and summarize special meetings and activities. If space is insufficient, use plain paper to complete report.

Since this is my first month on the field, I have spent it mostly in getting acquainted with the people and with the needs of the church. I have been able to visit almost every home of our communicant members and several homes of those who are regular attenders though not members. The people have been quite warm in their welcome and have showered the manse with flowers and fresh garden vegetables. There are several people who I feel have a keen spiritual perception and will be able to give invaluable service to the Kingdom here. With a change in pastors some activities have become a bit disjointed but the regular officers and leaders have been taking the initiative. Of primary importance is the completion of the church basement and Sunday school rooms, and this is projected just as soon as the summer season ends, which is the middle of September. The local basketball coach, who has a fine Christian background, has agreed to be an adviser to our Westminster Fellowship. The annual picnic, held at Rainbow Glacier Camp, was a marked success due to the usual excellent service of the Anna Jackman and an unusually fine day. This was a good opportunity for me to get acquainted in an informal way.

The question as to the future use of our Rec Hall has been raised by several, and I do feel that the building should be put to some useful service or else destroyed. The mayor invited me to speak briefly to the city council about recreation for the community in general, and I hope some community-wide interest will arise. My first feeling is, however, that the local church should be responsible for the Rec Hall repairs and should hire this work to be done as our volunteer labor will be needed mostly in the basement project.

The situation in the local Longshoreman's union isn't too good in some ways, at least from what some of the men have hinted. The church's ministry to these workingmen has not been too effective and I see a need here, since it is our mission to proclaim the Lordship of the living Christ over all of life.

(Original and 3 carbons)

Report highlights of work accomplished, indicating progress in program for the year; relate successes, gratifying experiences, special problems or needs; and summarize special meetings and activities. If space is insufficient, use plain paper to complete report.

September saw the program of the church getting underway more energetically than I had expected. Our special labor Sunday service was well received and due to letters of invitation, we had all the officers of the local seaman's union in church that day. In connection with the holiday weekend a very unpleasant experience came to one of our ruling elders. He came home to find 3 teen-age boys in the act of undressing his 14 yr. old daughter. This, plus his bringing of charges, has caused considerable feeling in the community and it seems that similar things have occurred in the past and nothing has been done--Skagway at present doesn't have a policeman. However, the district attorney sent a state policeman to investigate and charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor are being prosecuted. A more recent store robbery has further emphasized the need for better law enforcement.

We were able to recruit a scoutmaster, and our scout troop has been growing by leaps and bounds--I have been serving as assistant when free. Our youth fellowship has had good meetings and faithful attendance by a small group, half senior highs and half 7th and 8th graders. But our choir of about 10 is composed almost entirely of high school young people who have been quite interested. We have no high school Sunday school class. I have been busy recruiting teachers, seeking for the ideal of 2 to a class, but so far we have just one except in the Jr. Dept. where we have two men. We also have an extra person as secretary, so our former sec'y can now concentrate on leading worship and is beginning primary worship this coming month. We took a poll one Sunday and found about 15 people who prefer adult Bible study in the evening, as part of evening worship. So this is our plan at least for a trial; at evening service we shall also have informal hymn singing and public intercessory prayer. The Woman's Association is now providing nursery care during morning worship but it is not too well organized yet.

Highlight of the month was the activities on the last Sunday. We held Rally Day during morning worship and the church was overflowing--many people came for the first time since I've been here. Our teachers, scout leader and youth adviser were dedicated, the first time this has been done on Rally Day, and various certificates were given to the children. In the afternoon, 10 of our officers--8 men and 2 women--went out on visitation evangelism, to invite families to communion next Sunday. This was the first time for all of them and they were thrilled, even though many families were not at home. The entire visitation took 1½ hours. It is my prayer that we will be led to continue this, for perhaps more than anything else, Skagway needs the witness of Christians showing loving concern for one another.

(Original and 3 carbons)

Report highlights of work accomplished, indicating progress in program for the year; relate successes, gratifying experiences, special problems or needs; and summarize special meetings and activities. If space is insufficient, use plain paper to complete report.

One of the most gratifying experiences was the results of our every home visitation which was held September 27 in connection with Worldwide Communion. Attendance at the service was greatly increased, and what is more important, those who did the visiting were thrilled to see some of their contacts present, several for the first time in many months. This is the first time such visitation has been done in Skagway, at least according to the current officers who took part. This plus the inspiration our elder commissioner received along the same line at presbytery and the impact of the visit of Roy Howes with some of our officers while he was enroute to presbytery, should open the way for serious evangelistic efforts toward which we are looking in the coming months, especially during Lent.

We started evening worship again and so far attendance has been fairly small but regular. It is an informal service, conducted much like the old mid-week prayer meeting was, with hymn singing, a time of prayer and group Bible study. We are praying right through the church roll name by name, as well as using the Yearbook of Prayer; our Bible study uses no set curriculum but instead is on a single Bible book, which means more work for me perhaps but still a more thorough study, not via lectures but through discussion.

Westminster Fellowship seems to be growing gradually, but it takes time for a real group with real fellowship to develop and up to now I haven't been able to give it the time I should like to give. We do have a regular nucleus, however, and a few others are more or less regular. The women's work is a bit shaky and they have had time finding people willing to serve as officers; it may be they need to divide into an afternoon and evening group as some of them do work while others could come better in the afternoon. One of our school teachers, who plans to enter seminary next year (southern Baptist) is helping in the primary class now, so our staff is just about completed.

The congregation voted to adopt a tentative budget of \$11,315 as our goal for 1960, and the canvass-by-mail is already completed with the visitation canvass set for Nov. 8. The benevolence goal has been raised from 15% to 20%, and $\frac{1}{4}$ of this will go we hope to presbytery-synod projects. Youth budget will be about \$1200 and is included in the church budget, of course. This is our goal and we hope we will exceed it, but many are not yet ready to pledge so we have some teaching to do here.

Another result of a lay visit is a young man who until recently was near to alcoholism; now he is in our adult confirmation class and is honestly searching for the riches of God in Christ.

(Original and 3 carbons)

Report highlights of work accomplished, indicating progress in program for the year; relate successes, gratifying experiences, special problems or needs; and summarize special meetings and activities. If space is insufficient, use plain paper to complete report.

The church continues to reach out into the community and in Novl this was highlighted by two things especially. One was the first Veterans Day service, held during regular morning worship on Nov.8th. We invited the American Legion to come in a body and also encouraged other vets to come in uniform if possible. The response was good and enabled us to contact several families who had been on the fringe of the church but had not got around to doing much about it. The other activity was the reopening of our Rec Hall for use, with the scouts providing much of the clean-up labor. The WF held a square dance for all teen-agers and sent invitations to everyone in the high school. The response was better than we had expected and the "word" has gotten around among the young people who are clamoring for more of the same. The younger children held a similar activity later in the month, and there are others in the offing. Session has established a definite policy regarding the Rec Hall, something which has been lacking and has caused misunderstanding.

Our women's work has been a cause of concern but they have new officers who seem to be taking hold, and Barbara has met with a planning group twice in the past month. Part of their problem has been endless and poorly planned business sessions, and this is being corrected. The choir is still small and very short of men, and I am still directing (?) which I do not like to have to do. A young couple will be transferring from Juneau in the near future and the wife has led Jr Choir at Memorial church, so we are hoping to have one after Christmas. The teachers decided definitely to have a simple Christmas program strictly for the benefit of the children, and an article in Opening Doors was the basis of a good discussion of just what such a program should aim to achieve.

The other highlight of the month was the most successful Every Member Canvass ever held here, at least in recent years. Out of some 35 families on the roll, 31 have pledged, several for the first time (including one elder) and the canvassers felt they were well received. The results are encouraging, so much so in fact, that the session voted to take the advance in self-support without any discussion. The Youth Budget canvass was held on the next Sunday with 12 young people taking part, and the response here has been fairly good up to date--some have not yet been contacted.

Our two delegates to Youth Presbytery returned enthused and full of ideas, even though they didn't get there until a day late due to weather. Our WF is a steady group but so far we have not been able to capture some of the older teen-agers, although I feel our meetings have been well conducted with the young people taking more and more responsibility.

January 2 1960
(Date Submitted—Usually 1st of Month)

WF held another successful square dance the first weekend of the month and also took over the decorating for Christmas and sacking candy for the Christmas treat. They met at the manse for a waffle supper with the team from SJJC and learned something about our Jr College at Sitka. I was also happy to see Larry Shearer, a former parishoner from Metlakatla, who is on the Jr College team. Our scout troop continues to thrive, and it was quite a thrill to see the scoutmaster confess Christ publicly and join by baptism along with several others at the regular December communion. The scouts earned almost $100 selling Christmas trees, even though they had to get them in a heavy snow.

We revised our order of worship, adding a processional and introit and also a Jr Sermon. Our evening service, which is really our adult Sunday School department, is still small in numbers but I feel it is really digging deep into the gospel according to Matthew, as is the pastor who must prepare the materials! We have a question box, too, and so far have had some good topics suggested by the questions submitted. The nominating committee met once, made up a list of several names for each office to be filled, and all have been contacted. Only one or two refused, so we have at least one willing to serve for every vacancy, and all but one will be newly elected to their offices although several have served in other offices.

December must have brought at least 50 inches of snow at varying times and we still have 6 in. down yet; locals say this was a record. It did cut our attendance somewhat as older folks don't go out in snow. The Sunday school program was well received although it was quite simple, and all the children were able to see the whole program themselves--it was our goal to have a pageant for the children rather than by the children. It had snowed a foot and was still snowing after the program, but we all piled into an old school bus to go caroling about town, visiting some invalid homes, etc. The battery went dead in the middle of Broadway, so everyone had to push; cocoa and cookies at the manse topped the evening off. Christmas Eve was also snowy and icy, but we felt our candlelight worship was meaningful; my wife told her yearly story, and everyone carried his lighted candle home in silence in spite of the weather. New Years eve we had a "Whing Ding" for the family--potluck supper, followed by singing, games the Va Reel, etc. in the Rec Hall for all ages together, and climaxed by the watchnight service. We celebrated the new year on Mountain standard time for the benefit of the children. Other highlights included two weddings and the usual round of holiday visiting, this time we could take the whole family several afternoons while school was out.

For some strange reason, I was elected vice pres. of the local Chamber of Commerce although I know little about that sort of thing. I was also asked to represent our community at a pre-legislature conference and at the mayor's conference in Juneau beginning Jan. 11--our mayor is on vacation--but I doubt if I shall go as we have our annual meeting that week and the

We were visiting our families the first part of the month. We arrived in Juneau Saturday, July 18. Monday morning Miss Miller took us to the various agencies which we will be working with out of Yakutat. These were; Public welfare, public school, Library services, and the native hospital services. And we arrived in Yakutat that afternoon.

The first week we mostly moved in and called on as many people as we could find in town. The others were out at the fishing grounds. The next week we did much of the same. I started doing some necessary repairs, which took what amounted to the rest of the time.

I ordered plastic pipe 1 1/2" X 300' from Portland and it arrived the other day. I have hired two highschool boys to dig the ditch and they are about finished. About 3/4 of the pipe is laid, and the depth is 3 1/2'. The frost line is 2' or so.

We were invited out to the Coast Guard Station for lunch the other day. From this visit we worked up a volleyball game between the Coast Guard and the village boys. There has been good enthusiasm for the game which is tomorrow night. We have already planned other recreation for the near future.

The Dodge truck has proven to be far superior to the old Jeep. In fact it has become quite the conversation piece. The paperwork on the truck will be completed when we secure insurance. We were turned down by the last company I was insured by because they have no Alaskan office.

The people have shown great appreciation for Lynn Illingsworth's being here before our arrival. He did a very good job. I would hope that he might be able to return to Alaska for his first church. He understands the native people and is well received by them.

(Original and 3 carbons)

Report highlights of work accomplished, indicating progress in program for the year; relate successes, gratifying experiences, special problems or needs; and summarize special meetings and activities. If space is insufficient, use plain paper to complete report.

The first week of this month there was good enthusiasm for the volleyball game. The attendance was good, the game was excellent. The same held true for the basketball game the next weekend. But the following week the fishing season changed and cut out any possible time to organize a team for another game, so we showed movies on the weekend instead. The movies are from the Coast Guard station. I am planning these social activities on Saturday nights to provide wholesome entertainment, which may curb some of the drinking. So far the program has been very well received, as we have had to turn people away for lack of room. It is evident that these people need something to do, and I would rather have the church provide something wholesome rather than letting the bootleggers get the business. Many people have expressed their thanks for these programs.

This month has also been the most difficult of my life. The end of the first week a young father, Sheldon James, Jr., passed away leaving a wife and five children. The oldest child is nine. He had been one of the leaders of the community, and a veteran of W. W. II. Because of the short weekend due to fishing we had the funeral during the time of church. This accounts for the high attendance for the second Sunday. They had the funeral in the A.N.B. hall where they had had their native service earlier. I learned a great deal at that time about the native burial customs, but much I could not understand because of my lack of knowing the Thlinget language.

The next week we had a mysterious death in Dry Bay, 75 miles south of here. It looks like two white men took the life of another white man over a fishing argument. The wife and son of the murdered man stayed with us before going back to Seattle. I had asked about having someone fly me down to help her out but this could not be done. And when she arrived here she had thought it out for herself and by reading her Bible she had found strength to face her husband's death. She told me that she felt the Lord had brought her attention to Proverbs 18:15-19:10 (selections therein.) After she had released her feelings and had no signs of anger or revenge I felt that the Lord did not need me down there, because he had counseled her himself. I told her this and she thought it was so. She and her husband were not familiar with the Bible and she had blindly turned to this selection. From this experience I have been humbled by the self revelation of our Lord's love for his people.

Then last week we had news of an elderly man, from Dry Bay also, who passed away of a heart attack. He was found in his cabin four days after, and it was two more days before we could get down there to bury him due to bad weather. We had to bury him close to his cabin because he was in no condition to be moved very far.

He was white, but had a native wife, who is a member of our church. All in all this has been a varied and educational month as you can see for a man just out of seminary.

The plastic pipe is now laid, but plumbing repairs are necessary before we can turn on the higher pressure. During the second week of this month five geologists were here to study the glaciers. Their boat had generator trouble so they spend five days with us. One was a Presbyterian elder who helped me at various jobs.

We also sent two more girls to camp. They thoroughly enjoyed their stay at Rainbow Glacier Camp.

This was a very busy month even though we didn't have any extra meetings or activities. The big point of confusion was the ending of the fishing season and the opening of school. I visited the fishing camps more regularly due to the increase of drinking. I also helped many of the people move back to town. When the new teachers arrived we met them and spent several days helping them and getting acquainted. They are Seventh Day Adventists and won't be supporting our activities but they would not do anything to hinder us either I am sure. They have two children and seem to stay to themselves. I thought it would be good to get acquainted due to the trouble Rev Klaver had with the former teachers.

We have had a good start with our Sunday school, but I had to leave one Sunday for presbytery. What we have started may go by the boards. We have recruited several new teachers but need much more time to train them. We are planning to use a sort of group teaching program. We ordered our material late and therefore are getting a slower start than usual. However the fishing season closes here much later than other places so we didn't get our full classes until late in the month.

The program at FAA is going very well. They appreciate having church regularly every Sunday night. I think the village people will grow to appreciate the support and connection with the airport people. In fact I think the two groups are mixing better this year than last year.

A very sad note was struck early one morning while I was taking a friend out hunting. He was going to get a moose he had seen the morning before and the new truck hit a washout on the edge of the road and slid to the edge of the road. The front was over the edge and the rear tire was on the edge. We got a chain and another truck to pull it back. The chain had a weak bronze repair link in it and it broke as the front axle hit the bank. With the tension on the springs it bounced over the edge when the chain broke. The worst damage was to the windshield. I got a new one the other day for $65.00 plus $12.00 freight. I have informed my insurance company but have not received word as yet. The truck was not damaged as far as running condition, but I have taken some extra time to pound out the dents. It was just one of those things that could happen to anyone here. We can at least thank the Lord that no one was hurt. I was steering at the time and jumped. As soon as I hear from the insurance company I will inform you.

I have received word from the Dept. of Chaplains that I am up for appointment as Chaplain in the United States Naval Reserve. I feel this will give me a better contact with the Coast Guard station here at Takutat, and will put me in line for active service if we should ever enter into war, especially in Alaska.

INSTRUCTIONS

The month started with the funeral of a young man in our church who worked hard as a lay worker when he was here and during school he worked in Sitka at S.J. The news came as a shock and Yakutat knew it had lost a spiritual leader who could be called a saint in any lay movement. The night after his funeral we had a communion service which was a valuable follow up from the earlier service.

The next week I left for presbytery, which was a very enriching experience. To feel the full thrust of neighboring churches working together encourages ones own enthusiasm. I had been working on plans for an every member canvas and the synod speakers gave me many ideas and needed confidence.

By returning home late due to being storm bound seemed to have ruined the month for local duties. When I returned it was the last week of the month. Therefore I tried to catch up on calling. This brings up a question I wanted to ask Dr. Jackman at presbytery when he spoke about the importance of calling and mentioned the number of calls we should be making I wondered what would be called a call. Many times I stop and have a good talk with a few people in the store, sometimes it is church business. I don't count these as calls but some men might. I heard one minister, not in our synod, counts the people attending a meeting ~~and~~ such as a presbytery committee meeting and ~~will~~ lists them as calls. This is padding to me.

Our youth meetings have started with good promise. The youth here have too much time on their hands and I feel guilty for not having more for them. This is a start in the way of regular meetings but I would like to get some lay leadership to do other things with them. A church sponsored bowling alley and soda fountain would be very valuable.

Our Halloween party was the big thing for the month in program and they would like more social times like it. Therefore we are planning more for the youth groups.

The women had a bake sale the first of the month and it was well planned. They have them several times a year and most of the community comes.

As soon as I returned from presbytery work started on the hall etc. for the A.N.B. convention. My wife and I joined the A.N.B. & A.N.S. so we were in the thick of all the plans and work. The town seemed to be changed over the end of Oct. and the beginning of Nov. I did the people a great deal of good to have something to work toward. They worked together as I have never seen them work. I didn't think they would get it all done but they did and more. Maybe I should say "we". It also gave me the chance to meet other people.

I think we will have some new members in the church due to the work etc. at the convention. The visits Dr. Armstrong and Bill Pritchard made while they were here also stimulated interest in some.

The only problem is that the people are low on food and money due to the heavy expense of the convention. I planned a moose hunting trip for the men of the community but we had very bad weather and the moose stayed in the brush. We wanted to fill the freezers for the winter, but had poor luck. I did get to know several men who hadn't spoken to me very much before. More and more I am feeling that we are a part of the community.

The worship services at the convention were very valuable for me. For once it gave me a chance to have a series of sermons. My thought was that community leaders must create new images for our inadequate ones of the past. For example christian leaders need to rest their own beliefs into a vital faith. After they were over several people said they looked forward to the morning worship each day, and another older member said he felt a new interest in the delegates toward the worship services. I thought it was a very stimulating week for me. The community feels that it has been rewarded for all its work in the convention. I am sure that those who were here left with warm spots in their hearts for Yakutat. I hope it is remembered as one of the best conventions of the ANB. And some day we want to do the same for presbytery. That's a request for the opportunity.

The Installation service was warmly received by all. It was good to have it at the first of the convention week as it seemed to have set the tone for the week. Personally it revived my strength and inspired my heart.

Dr. Armstrong spoke to the young people graduating from our grammar school this spring and it seems that he convinced them that S.J. is the only place to go. We have two very interested in the new nursing program.

It seems that more and more of my time is taken up with maintenance work. So many things are inadequate it is impossible to get ahead of them. I will be very glad when all the materials are here for the major repairs I have planned.

This was busy month as it is in every church at Christmas. We had a very good Christmas program. It was held with the Church of God program in the ANB hall. The people have been used to a big school program at Christmas but the new school teacher didn't want to bother, so the churches filled in. I think it provided a more Christ centered Christmas then usual.

Our choir was started for the Christmas season. We don't have a very good piano so it is hard to sing with it and get good quality. This showed up most strongly when Christmas music is used so much. So it is our prayer that we will get a used organ by Easter, by hook or by crook. I think we will be getting some choir robes from SJ soon. This will help too

The people here love to see movies. We have started showing movies before some regular programs to see what it does for attendance. For example we used one before the midnight watchnight service last night. We thought it might be a night of heavy drinking. As a result we had good attendance and they stayed for the refreshments and service. We are therefor starting a series on the life of Christ which will run until Easter. This will tie into our every home canvas. The Christmas Eve. movie "Holy Night" brought a record crowd. Movies must take them away from their remoteness, and if it will bring them together socially, it will do so religiously as well.

Our youth groups are progressing rapidly. The growing numbers are becoming a threat to our limited leadership. I hope we can expand with them in the coming year. This growth is due to the work of Rev. Klaver I am sure. I am not running the program as he did, but the potential was found by him.

This was my first Christmas with snow , and lots of it. It is hard to get through the roads here due to slow snow removal. With the new truck it seems we are the ones pulling the others out. When I do get stuck it usually pulls itself out. I didn't get the tires I expected on the front which would have been much better. But we are very pleased to have what we have. The house is very cold, because the things I have ordered have not all come. The hardest thing for us seems to be ordering from the catalogs. It takes so long and is not what you expected when you get it.

The other evening after a movie (social) a man came to me about joining the church. It was slow in coming but pleased me a great deal. I have spent many nights with him while he has been drinking and now results seem to be showing. Many other ministers before me have also spent much time with him which has lead to his present interest. He is clever and hard to understand but I think we will gain a new leader when he joins. Maybe our calling will bring more.

INSTRUCTIONS
Report for the month just completed and voucher for month just beginning should be prepared in quadruplicate on the first of each month, and distributed as follows: a. Mail original (perforated copy) with voucher attached, to the Office for Field Service of the Board in New York or elsewhere as directed. b. Mail copies of report as directed by Synod or Presbytery headquarters. c. Retain one copy for church files.

Special points to emphasize for the month are:

Our Congregational Dinner, and Annual Meeting. This was very well attended, and in spite of competing activities, we had a full house---- would not have had room for everyone had we not had competition. There were a gratifying number in attendance at the Congregational meeting, over 2/3 of our resident membership. One elder was heard to remark that he could recall a time when you could count the number present on both hands. Following the brief meeting, the film: The living Word, was presented with gratifying results.

The Trustees have decided to do something about our building needs, and in addition to stressing this as a giving matter, have decided to go ahead with insulation, and the putting in of sliding doors, and the installation of a new sink and cabinet in the kitchen (church).

Committees to help were worked out, though, of course, this took a big share of the pastor's time to act as a spark-plug. I am happy to report that the insulation (as of this writing) has been completely installed, and a ceiling repaired (where a workman dropped thru the ceiling.

The fourth Sunday of January was observed as "Young Peoples' Sunday" with several of the Young People assisting in the service. Wrangell has also established an "Order of the Rainbow" girls-----and the pastor is acting on the advisory committee. This will give contact not only with girls in our church but with many other young people of the community.

In spite of a lot of "flu" and inclement weather, our attendance has been very good. Particularly, there is more sustained interest in the church services.

We began our usual annual Lenten devotionals on Ash Wednesday: these have been quite popular, and well attended for a mid-week service.

The coming of the Sheldon Jackson School Choir is always a welcome service. At first we had planned to have this in the school "gym" but the feeling was that it "belonged" in the church. In addition the choir reached quite a few young people by appearing at the school in the afternoon. Many of the young high school students are considering attending the Junior College.

The SJJc Basketball Squad, and also the High School "Warriors" both from SJJc, were welcome here. The calibre of their Christian "sportsmanship" was remarked by many.

The interest in the work of the church continues. This spring I have, for the first time, had sufficient Sunday School teachers. One woman who has a perfect SS attendance record, for the past 4 or 5 years (except for illness) had hesitated to "teach" a class because she felt she did not know enough. I asked her to act as S S Supt. for a couple of months. She has done an excellent job, and now in addition, is teaching a class---and would feel hurt if anyone suggested she was doing too much.

Yet, we do have a huge personnel turn-over in the town itself. In our adult choir of 25 enrolled; there are less than 6 who have been members for over 4 years. Church officers get interested and trained----then move away.

We felt very heartened to have our own good Friday service this year-----for 5 or 6 years it has been a Union Service----with the Presbyterians furnishing most of the leadership. This year we felt that we would have better attendance if it was our own service----and I suspect the same is true of the Episcopal church too. At any rate, we had 78 in attendance, of which 69 participated in the sacrament of Communion. (This in comparison with a Union World day of Prayer service with less than 35 total attendance for the town.

Our men have taken a great deal of interest in fixing up the church. We have all our insulation here and installed. Then the trustees decided to hold an auction sale----collecting un-needed items from individuals, and then selling them. Everyone had a lot of fun, and our building repair fund (to be used for matching with Board N.M. money) increased by $265.00

(Original and 3 carbons)

Report highlights of work accomplished, indicating progress in program for the year; relate successes, gratifying experiences, special problems or needs; and summarize special meetings and activities. If space is insufficient, use plain paper to complete report.

Our church work continues to maintain a good interest and enthusiasm on the part of many of our people. There is developing a unity of spirit that we have not had before, and several people have spoken of how much this means to them, and that this had not always been true here.

Several new families have come to town, replacing several who have moved away. A new Fish and Wildlife agent, and his bride, have moved to town, and have been present, since their first Sunday, in church with their Bible.

At long last, it begins to appear as if Pacific Northern Timber Company is to get started with their operations. Three families who are executives in the corporation, have moved into town with their household furniture. Two of these families are staunch Catholics, but very fine people; the third family has attended our church regularly, though they have not yet joined. A barge loaded with sawmill equipment is enroute from Portland, Oregon. We are especially anxious for new industry, since the fishing has been so poor for so long. This summer our local cannery will not operate: in fact, they have moved their equipment to Petersburg, and their building is for sale. The Japanese interests are renewing their lease for 4 years, on the local sawmill. Many have felt that they would move out completely because of forest service restrictions on "primary manufacture". Since this is the same company that is building over in Sitka, many feel that they will in time consolidate their holdings, and move their crew over to their main base of operations. Just now this would be a disaster to Wrangell's economy.

Much of April was spent in Presbytery work, on correspondence, reports, etc. It has taken a great deal of time, and many hours past midnight, and accounts for the lateness of some of these reports, which I don't like but cannot seem to help, for certain Presbyterian matters had to be given priority.

One of our elders was responsible for my Sunday service while I was at Presbytery, and the services went smoothly. (One year there were only 18 present for a worship service when the pastor was absent---this year there were 65.)

Rev. Brian Cleworth

Dear Brian:

I inclose herewith my April report, which, with the two sent you earlier in the week, puts me up-to-date. I do regret their tardiness! Though not trying to excuse myself, I do think that you ought to know that I took all the data to bring them up-to-date when I went to Presbytery, and my bag got put onto the SJS 2, went to Sitka, and Alaska Coastal lost it, together with all my records. It finally showed up after about 10 days, and I did feel that it was more important to get my Presbytery records cleared before I did them.

Very truly yours,

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN ALASKA

These primitive people have brought western civilization and modern gadgets to primitive Eskimo life. Barrow church has celebrated its 50th anniversary.

Eskimo lay worker at these points serves fellow Eskimos as well as American Army personnel.

Here are the vast, unpopulated wastes of the tundra.

Practical work first introduced into Barrow by Methodist missionaries.

Here is Russia, a mere 45 miles from our westernmost mission.

The boundary between East and West is also the boundary between yesterday and today.

The Alaska Highway is served by a Sunday school missionary at all points in Alaska.

Influx of homesteaders into this agricultural area has increased population as well as the need for more ministers.

The "Princeton Hall" is the connecting link between the churches and institutions of the presbytery, transporting missionaries, sacraments, and many people throughout the area.

ALASKA TODAY

Alaska today is beset with many acute problems. Because of her strategic position, military developments are extensive. The sudden impact of western civilization requires many adjustments for the primitive population of the state. Her vast resources are still untapped, economic opportunities are limited, the cost of living is high, and the rich natural resources inaccessible. Frustration manifests itself in alcohol, gambling and prostitution.

Presbyterians have a long and honored history in Alaska. Since the first Presbyterian mission was established in 1867, the church has been a constant presence in the state. Today, there are 42 Presbyterian churches in Alaska, with a total membership of over 1,000. The church is active in all phases of life, from social service to evangelism. It is a source of strength and comfort to many of the people of Alaska.

- Town with one organized church
- Town with two organized churches
- Town with three organized churches
- Preaching point

The Synodical Board of Alaska is the governing body of the Presbyterian Church in Alaska. It is composed of representatives from all the churches in the state. The board is responsible for the spiritual and temporal welfare of the church in Alaska.

Report highlights of work accomplished, indicating progress in program for the year; relate successes, gratifying experiences, special problems or needs; and summarize special meetings and activities. If space is insufficient, use plain paper to complete report.

The members of the congregation, sponsored by the United Presby. Women's Group, planned a surprise for the Schwabs on their 23th Wedding anniversary, with an open house in the church parlors. It was indeed a real surprise, and a very pleasant occasion. We were presented with a pair of sterling silver candle holders, and a cash purse to be used during our furlough.

We find it difficult to leave our people for even a 3 months period, because there is always a seasonal slump during the summer, and attendance and participation is much lower. On Mothers' day we had a record attendance of 133. Out of this 133 we counted well over 40 who were either leaving Wrangell permanently, or would be away for a month or more during the summer. Several families are moving permanently. Altho one is always encouraged with a large attendance, there is also the wonder why they do not come every Sunday.

Our doctor had either a "stroke" or an attack of encephalitis early in April. His wife recently came into the church, and has been active as a SS teacher. To date he is feeling much better, but still unable to resume his practice. He has gone to Denver, and Colo. Springs for further rest and medical care. We certainly miss a doctor here. One day this past week 5 patients had to fly to Petersburg for medical care.

The Schwabs are leaving on furlough this summer, driving down the highway from Haines; and plan to return via the new road, and river ferry down Telegraph creek. The congregation is looking forward to the coming of the Donald Howland's, our summer student and his wife, with anticipation. Plans have been made to welcome them, and we know the work will move ahead.

The Sacrament of Holy Communion was observed on May 19. We had the joy of receiving an entire family into the church. The mother on reaff. and the father (ex. R.Cath) on confession, and baptizing their two children.

It is indeed good to be back again on the field, after being gone from the end of May, until Aug. 29. Don Howland, a Seminary Student, and his wife, did an excellent job during the summer. September, however, is always a hard month on the field, with the children occupied with changes at school; and with many of the men, and even families, going out hunting. Our services, however, have held up well, although many of the folks have not been regular in attendance every Sunday.

Then too, with the organization of a Baptist church, we have lost 2 families, plus a third one which occasionally attended.

September saw the reorganization of the S.S. Teachers for the fall, and promotion day. Many of the children have not yet got back into regular attendance.

At Wrangell Institute, my work started on the second Sunday; and we have 43 children enrolled in our Presbyterian work---about half Presbyterian, the rest Friends, Moravian, etc.

The high point in the month's services is our World Communion service. Altho many people are away at this time, yet the ones who come find this service one of real help and inspiration.

Presbytery took the pastor away for nearly a week (Mon. thru Friday) and although everyone tried, it was impossible to get any elder or other church officer to go to Presbytery. I sincerely regret this, for the Evangelism material would have been of great help.

Report highlights of work accomplished, indicating progress in program for the year; relate successes, gratifying experiences, special problems or needs; and summarize special meetings and activities. If space is insufficient, use plain paper to complete report.

It has been difficult to get many of our people back into services after being away for the summer. This is a recreational, fishing, and hunting town; and when many do it not only for the sport, but also for the meat to cut down on living expenses, many of the men, and families as well, are gone on week-ends.

Our choir has helped interest many of our young people into regular church attendance. Not only do we have about 15 young people from the high school in choir, but I have a high school class of 10 of them who meet every Sunday morning.

With the Baptist group going "strong" and providing free transportation, many easy-going people use this as a method of "free baby sitting" for their children; and altho they have affected few of our regular families, they have brought in many of the new logging and construction children.

We felt that a Union Thanksgiving service would bring fewer of our own people into church----so this year had a Thanksgiving service of our own. (The Episcopal man was on vacation anyway, and the Baptist is too independent for union services) The 95 in attendance were either our own group, or a few visiting Episcopalians.

December has been as busy a month as one sees in the manse, with many opportunities to be of service. The statistical report shows a Candlelight service on Christmas eve. Far too many of our Wrangellites, even some of our church members, celebrate Christmas at "eggnog, or cocktail" parties; and a large group felt that they wanted to honor Christ by this special service of consecration.

REV. DONALD A. SCHWAB, PASTOR

JAN 13 1960

Jan 7, 1960

My dear Dr. Jackman:

I'm sorry to be so late with some of these reports. My church treasurer was gone the early part of the fall, and originnly this delayed me. Then for the past 6 weeks I have been bothered with a series of headaches that has been making any study difficult, so that I cannot concentrate. Probably an aftermath of the flu that has been hitting Wrangell the past 2 months. Am still bothered with them, but feel some better.

Very sincerely yours,

D. A. Schwab
